Los Angeles Public Library Hosts Watercolor Exhibit

Oct. 1 – 31 at Frances Howard Goldwyn Hollywood Branch

Use your imagination to interpret the watercolor prints featured in the new “Landscapes & Personalities: What Do You See?” exhibit on display from Oct. 1 – 31 at the Frances H. Goldwyn Hollywood Branch Library, at 161 S. Gardner St., Los Angeles. The exhibit features the colorful works of local artist Ioana Urma, who was born in Romania. The exhibit is free and open to the public.

For information, please call the branch at (323) 936-6191.

The Los Angeles Public Library serves the largest urban population of any library in the country. Its Central library, 71 branch libraries, six million books and state-of-the-art technology provide everyone with free and easy access to information and the opportunity for life-long learning.
