4. Public Comments on Matters
Within the Board's Jurisdiction:

The Board heard one (1) General Public Comment about branch libraries that are unable to open in the morning due to lack of staff. The speaker requested the Library find a solution because the burden falls on library users who go to a specific branch and find it closed.

5. City Librarian's Comments and Announcements:

- California Library Association Award: The Los Angeles Public Library (LAPL) had a strong presence at the California Library Association (CLA) annual meeting held in Sacramento last week. Principal Librarian Jené Brown is the current CLA President and Library staff presented on LAPL's work on safety and security, the Library Experience office and other programs and initiatives. The Los Angeles Public Library won a PR Excellence Award from CLA for the "Story Hackers" TV program, which the awards committee called, "Pure genius" and "Creative and fun to watch." The Librarians and Social Media Librarians who were involved in the program accepted the award.

- LGBTQIA Pride Month: June is Pride Month and the Library has created more than two dozen events and programs for patrons of all ages to celebrate pride in person and online. They include an online queer art show, film screenings, book discussions, and fun activities like Drag Queen Storytime with Pickle at the Silver Lake Branch Library. This weekend will also be the triumphant return of the Library marching in the Pride Parade with vehicles, book bikes, and the book cart drill team, and will be offering resources, programs and activities for everyone.
- Summer Reading Program: It officially kicked off on Monday, June 6, and it will run through August 6th. This year's theme is "Summer with the Library, Express Yourself." The artwork was done by artist Man One and is in use in social media posts and other communications. Patrons are encouraged to express themselves through art, poetry, music, dance, writing, photography, cooking, gardening, and community activism; and to keep track of their reading through the online app. Participants are eligible for badges and prize drawings at the end of summer.
- State Park Pass: The California State Libraries in partnership with the State Parks System are circulating State Park Passes through libraries for patrons to visit a state park for free. Mr. Szabo noted that in addition to receiving 382 Parks Passes to be checked out like books, LAPL also received a $5,000 grant from the California State Library that will fund hiking, camping, and telescope kits to explore the variety of landscapes throughout California. Mr. Szabo said the passes are being circulated systemwide and there currently 640 holds on them.
- "LA for All" Campaign: This campaign is an initiative of the Civil+Human Rights and Equity Department. The "LA for ALL" campaign was designed by local artists and uses art, advocacy, and community as a call to action, to stand up against hate, and stand for the values of diversity, belonging and inclusion. The Library has received packages of "LA for All" posters and bumper stickers with information on how to report incidents and hate crimes as well as a link to multilingual resources that have been distributed throughout the library system.
- Summit of the Americas: The City of Los Angeles is hosting the "Summit of the Americas," and the Mayor's Office held a special event and reception at the Central Library this week for dignitaries that included L.A. City Council President Nury Martinez, the U.S. Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Development, the Consul General of Mexico, the Minister of Foreign Affairs for Canada, the Mayor of Bogota, Columbia, the United States Ambassador to Mexico and a number of others.
- 13th Annual Senior Symposium: LAPL's Engagement and Outreach staff recently shared library resources with more than 200 seniors at the 13th Annual Senior Symposium in Van Nuys. They handed out 50 memory boxes that were created to stimulate the mind and help in daily life. The memory boxes were filled with a large print puzzle book, magnifier with light, multi-colored pen and other helpful items, and were a hit with the seniors. Mr. Szabo said this project is one more fine example of how LAPL is helping to meet the evolving needs of older Angelenos.

- Digital Access Recognition: StateTech Magazine recently had an article about the work libraries are doing across the country in digital equity for individuals that would not otherwise have internet at home. Librarian Edwin Rodarte was quoted and the Library's Tech2go Program was highlighted, mentioning how the Library expanded outreach during the pandemic by loaning chromebooks and mobile hotspots to 2,000 patrons through the Emergency Connectivity Funding received from the FCC, through private funding, and from the Library's own budget. The growth of the Virtual Cybersnails Program during the pandemic was also discussed in the article.
- Telemundo Coverage: Telemundo News recently featured the story of Perla, a young woman who grew up in Mexico, who participated and graduated from LAPL's Career Online High School Program (COHS). In the story, she said, "I always have in my mind that the sky is the limit." Perla achieved her High School Diploma and she is now one of the COHS graduates that now total 728.

Discussion Items

d. Adoption of the Library Department Budget for Fiscal Year 2022-23

City Librarian John F. Szabo recommended adoption of the Library Department's Budget for Fiscal Year 2022-23, totaling $227,048,611. He said that there were some last minute movements of funds in the Budget that left a little over $800,000 in the budget that was referred to as a reserve fund, and a number of small projects were not funded in the budget.

Commissioner Salinas asked if this budget includes the new positions for social workers. Mr. Szabo replied that the budget does include all of those positions that were initially included and approved in the budget, and they'll be hiring the first social worker in the coming months.

Board President Cao asked the City Librarian if there was something not included in this budget that he would like to see included in the year's budget. Mr. Szabo replied that the cost of materials has increased due to demand, there is also need for more facility improvements, and expanding the Library Experience Office are areas that could use more funding.

Board President Cao stated that there is anxiety about the financial future and asked how that would affect the library. Mr. Szabo replied that the increase in the Library budget as a result of Measure L for this year is less than the prior year and that could also be the case for the 2023/24 budget. He noted that the Library has the Budget Stabilization account to help mitigate issues in the future.

Commissioner Salinas asked what are the key things that would indicate that the Library has to tighten things for next fiscal year. Mr. Szabo replied that the Library's budget is entirely connected to the assessed property values. If properties get reassessed at lower value then it affects the Library's funding directly.

It was moved by Commissioner Salinas and seconded by Board President Cao to approve the following resolution. The motion passed with 3 Ayes (Cao/Eidmann/Salinas). Noes: 0. Absent: 2 (Edmonds/Franzen).

LIBRARY RESOLUTION NO. 2022-21 (C-15)
