Vol. I.
Our book of 1942 shows Thom the Saxon ba 1030 who went to England in army of William the Cinqueror and fought at Hastings in 1066, as our most remote ancestor. Later discoveries proved this theory to be wrong, and proved our line goes back to Walter de Cantilupe, a cousin of the Plantagenets as shown in the tabulation to follow.

But there was a Thom and his son Toen because they are in the Domesday book as Tham and Toeni. Toen had a son Toenchis (younger Toen. He had a son Thom no doubt named so by Trenchen after Trenchen's father Thom the Saxon.

This Thom II no doubt was the progenitor of families still existing call Thom, Thomas, Thomasen, Tomlinson, and Toombs, as well as Thomchen which became the English form Thomkin, which would in time become Tomkyns or Tomkins and Tompkins which would account for the many unidentified Tompkins later on. This would lead down to the Tompkins families of Surrey who were visited by the late Judge John Robertson Tompkins of Mobile Ala not long after the Civil War. They told Judge that they descended from Thom the Saxon as above. No doubt they did, but our American branches, that of New England and Virginia undoubtedly descend from Walter de Cantilupe down through de Cantilupes to Thomas Tompkins Bishop of Hereford by his brother Robert Tompkins of Charlton who we had in the book as descendant of Thom the Saxon. We believe this new tabulation is as nearly correct as any that will ever be made. We will carry it down to the first of our immigrants to America using the low numbers. When we get to these immigrants we will use the low serial numbers but in parentheses use the higher serial numbers as used in our big MSS The Clan of Tomkyns.

We have a copy of Bowen's "Book of Adam which gives ancestry of Charles Martel back to Adam. It goes right through Methuselah who lived 969 years. This is nice to remember when we get old.
We shall not copyright any of our writings on genealogy. Whoever may have possession of any papers collected by the undersigned may permit copies to be made by any deserving applicant for such endeavor.

The libraries or individual who have our papers may use their discretion as to who may make copies.

This is because no one ever made any profit from works of this nature. They are published without expectation of reward or gain, but for the benefit of those of our big family, not only now, but for the generations to follow on.

Anyone who has or obtains material in this MSS, may publish what part he may desire, or in whole if so desired, and take full credit for making the material accessible to our kin and their descendants.

Dated Washington DC Feb 14 1957.

To save a lot of time for future researchers, if any, we have searched the following census records and all the data in them re our name is included in this MSS, except census records for 1790 to 1840 inclusive which gives no name except the head of the family, but does give number of male and females other than he, in age brackets. We have a brochure on these also but they are not much census records prior to 1850 are to be depended on because it does not name anyone except head of the family. We searched all census records listed here, including 1870 which was last census available for public use until quite recently, when the 1880 census records were made available. It would take years to search them all, and we have not enough years in which to do it, so will leave this for some future researcher. It is interesting to note that to search all census records from beginning (1790) including 1870, one would have to work 10 hours a day, 365 days a year, and after 720 years he would catch up to the 1870 census records. But he would have 72 other complete census records to look over and there would be a big percentage of increase in each succeeding census. No one will ever be able to get more than a small part of the census records. Following in what we have searched. It would be a waste of time for anyone having access to our MSS herewith, to look over these again. All the data in this MSS up to 1870, per list below:

We have two copies of the MSS by the late Miss Antoinette Abrams which we call the Abrams MSS. One copy we got from the Rosvener Library of Rochester NY, the other thru the kindness of our good friend and kinsman Mr. Charles Elijah Abrams of Troy NY. He has one of the finest collection of historical and genealogical collection in private hands that we have ever seen.

All the Tompkins data in the Abrams MSS is in our present tabulations, but we make a copy for preservation of it separate under the title of Abrams MSS.

The Abrams MSS follows up the descendants of girls farther than our tabulation does, but in our tabulation we make note as to where further data can be found.

The Richard Washburn Genealogy by Ada C. Haight, some 1300 pages, goes even still more into detail re descendants of our girls.

And so, we owe much to Antoinette Abrams and others as shown below, for so much material that has become part of our own records.

Among these are our good cousin Mrs. Mabel Church Tompkins of Chappaqua NY who spent much time and energy in personally gathering data from many sources, with many personal interviews with members of our big family around her section of New York.

Our good friend William H. Borden also was a big help as he made contact for us with several members now in New Zealand and Australia who belonged to the Irish line, tho some of these were in America both U S and Canada.

We had the good fortune to find a MSS by the late Gertrude Sandlin Tompkins of Alabama who had gathered a great deal of data re the Virginia line. Also for the Virginia line we are indebted to Mrs. Roberta Warren of Newport News, and her kinswoman Mrs. Anna Leland West of Portland Oregon. Both these were ardent researchers and has a vast amount of data which they most graciously gave us.

The papers of the late Governor Jay Tompkins of Salt Point NY was made available to us thru several members of his branch. This branch coincides partly with the Abrams data tho each had material that the other did not have.

As to the New Jersey lines descended from Micah Tomkins immigrant to Massachusetts was sent us by Mr. Ambrose Tomkins, of Morristown, whose father the late George Washington Tomkins spent many years gathering data re descendants of Micah the Immigrant. Mr. Ambrose Tomkins sent us photostat copies of nearly 400 pages of this journal.

Also we have a book by the late Judge John Robertso Tompkins of Mobile Alabama re the Carolina line, my own, descended from the Westchester Co NY line. Then add to this our 25 years of almost continual research, many correspondents everywhere including China, Damascus in Syria, all over Canada - so it is amazing the amount of material we have found.

We spent several years in the archives at Washington DC especially census records, but never got to all of them. It is too big a job, we haven't enough years to do it. In another brochure we will explain just what census records we did search so future researchers will not have to take time to do it.
Since typing this MSS we have made some very interesting discoveries.
In some notes taken from excerpts of the Domesday book, we find the following items:
Toeni of Norfolk
Tonenio of Norfolk
Robert de Tham
Tonne of Warwick
Robertus de Tham
Fulco homo Guielmi (of the Percy line)
Fulco homo Osbern de Arches, York Fulco homo Roger of Nottinghamshire and also Gilberti Tison who we know was standard bearer for William the Conqueror at Battle of Hastings. He was given a castle by William afterwards a picture of which is in Churchill's History of England in Life Magazine. Also these articles show big colored pictures of places where Battles fought, castles belonging to many of those named in this MSS re the Plantagenets and others connected with English history.
Also the descendants of H&meline Plantagenet and others named in our MSS are shown in great detail. One should surely have a copy of Bowen's Book of Adam if he wishes more data than we show as to these.
If one should closely study these item from Domesday book, it will enlarge his view of our own line as it mentions Robertus de Tham etc. Also We are not certain of what it means to say Toeni homo Tham, whether it means Toen son of Tham (Thom), or descendant of Tham, or exactly what it does signify. The item does say Galterius filius Gilberti de Essex which surely means Walter, son of Gilbert Tison who was surviving standard bearer for William at Battle of Hastings. There was one Tenstain The White, who we later learned was kin to our line and name Toustain, who was the standard bearer for William at beginning in battle but he probably killed in it as Tyson was awarded a castle for his service in that capacity at Hastings.
This item from Domesday book shows a Robert "de Tham," a Fulco homo Roger, and there were several Rogers in our line about this time and later.
It is interesting to note that the arms of "Metz" show three birds as shown in the later Tomkins arms of England, and that we descend from Guarin de Metz, who was same as Walter de Cantilupe by Catholic records and also called just Warine (Guaripe) by historians. We accept Catholic version as fact with plenty of supporting evidence to prove it.
We start our MSS with Charlemagne but the Book of Adam by Bowen give what is said to be ancestry of Charlemagne back to Adam. We do not believe the record would stand up in court but it is interesting to have the record whether we believe it or not. BUT it DOES give several generations back from Charlemagne which are fact. So we can trace our line back as far as the individual named in ancestry of Charlemagne as you wish to accept as fact.
There is a radiance and glory in the darkness could we but see;
And to see we have only to look.
And so, at this time we greet you, not quite as the world sends greetings, but with the prayer that for you, now and forever, the day breaks and the shadows flee away.

(attributed to Fra Giovanni 1603).

An unknown writer once said "Each name recorded here is a memorial, and perhaps the only memorial, of a human heart that kept its pulsations through some period of time, and then ceased to beat and has mouldered into dust. Each had its joys and sorrows; its cares and burdens, its afflictions and hopes; its opportunities wasted or improved, and its hour of death. Each date had a great significance to some circle of human hearts. Memories are not only of death, but also of life. They died, but they had lived. The mind thinks of unseen worlds which they inhabit. All these names are memorials of human spirits that must pass from Time to Eternity, ready or unprepared, in youth or maturity; they go into Eternity, even as we are going.

So, beyond the River of Time that flows between, walk the brave men and beautiful women of our ancestry, grouped in the twilight along its shores. Distance smooths away the defects, and with gentle darkness rounds every form into grace. It steals the harshness from their speech, and every word becomes a song. From across the gulf that ever widens, they look upon us with eyes whose glance is tender, and which light us to success. We acknowledge our inheritance. We accept our birthright and we own that their careers have pledged us to noble action.

Van Soon says that "if every living person on our globe could be placed in a box half a mile in each of its three dimensions, this box containing all of us, could slip from the peak of one of the mountains lying in the Grand Canyon, and come to rest half a mile from the brim. Then would come silence and oblivion."
The canyon would go on battling wind and air and rain as it has done since it was created. The sun would run its course through the uncharted heavens. The astronomers of distant and nearby planets would have noticed nothing out of the ordinary."

And so, this world, which seems so vast as measured by the perspective of self, is but an insignificant spot, lost in space. How tiny indeed is the individual among the infinite numbers that come and go, marching from a vanished Yesterday to the dim Tomorrow.

There is a tale we heard long long ago, of a dictator that had conquered all the world, and had at last come to the City of Last Accounting. He approached the massive gate with arrogance and his usual assurance of his might and power.

The keeper of the gate inquired as to his identity. He disdainfully replied that he was the Governor and Conqueror of the Earth. The keeper said he had never heard of the Earth and was curious to know where it was. This was a question the Conqueror could not answer. It was "out there, in space."

He was taken to the immense map hall. The map was a mile wide and could be rolled up or down for great distances. There were many small black dots on it, no larger than a period on this page. There were millions and millions of them, some larger, some tremendously larger than the others. After much discussion and consultation with others, they discovered an index to the spots shown on the map.

For several hours the great map was rolled upward and at last was stopped. The ageless man in charge of the inquiry pointed to one of the smallest dots.
The Conqueror was amazed. "Is THAT the Earth?" he gasped. "No. THAT is your galaxy!"

And so, it may seem that when even the huge expanse of our galaxy is comparatively so insignificant; and our solar system which seems so huge to us, is even more so, then why should an individual or even a family, or even a nation, believe that a roster of its members should be worth keeping? All must pass away and be no more.

The answer is that this world contains everything of which we can be sure. We may have various beliefs or faiths as to some everlasting life after death, but we do not KNOW one single thing about what may lie in the future, even tho' that future be but a single hour away.

One of the elder ladies of our clan once told me that she had kept a list of the gifts she had received when she was even a little child. She said that a genealogy was a list of the gifts to a family given by the Creator. She thought such a record was a wonderful thing to have.

And so, we can only KNOW what we have in life. We can only hope or believe for what there may be in a future life. And life is ubreakably bound in the fabric of the clan. Each individual will eventually go his way, but the FAMILY stays on forever. At the last moment of survival of this plodding, stolid, earth, some member of our big family, will be there to see the last of the grand finale.

59. Fulk IV, le Rechin, the Hardfaced or the Quarrelsome b. 1048 d. 1109 m. Melusine, legend says was a witch. See note below. m. 2nd Bertracl.e de Montfort dau Simon de Montfort and Agnes d'Evereaux. They separated. See "Devil's Brood" by Duggan. Fulk married "half a dozen times." Sent away each as her successor appeared. One appears to have been named Aimeria.

60. Geoffrey The Bearded

Note re Fulk IV. we quote from Duggan's "Devil's Brood." "Count Fulk went on a journey, none knew where and returned to his castle with a beautiful lady whom he married. Two sons and two daughters were born. No one ever heard where she came from or of any relatives. She would go to church if Fulke told her to but never stayed for the Conssecration. Always had some excuse to leave before then."
The Count was a forceful man and took no nonsense. He decided to use force. He had four of his knights stand on her cloak so she could not leave the church. In those days there were no seats, the congregation must stand. So she was standing with her four children at mass. When the bell rang announcing the Consecration, she tried to leave. The four knights stood on the hem of her long cloak. The priest raised the Host. She shrieked as tho in agony, tore the brooch from her cloak, seizing two of her children and still shrieking, flew through the window. None of them were ever seen again. Two of the children remained, apparently they were Fulk IV, Hardfaced, and Sibyl. From these descend all these Count of Anjou. Legend said she was daughter of the Devil. Others say she was a witch. (We briefed Duggan's account.)

13. Guarin de Metz ba. 1120, same as Walter de Cantilupe (Catholic record) also called Warine. This man was contemporary with our Toenchen's tentative son. But now we cannot prove descendants of Toenchen. He MUST have been closely related probably by marriage, to Guarin de Metz (Walter de Cantilupe) as Walter's grandsons some took Tomkyns as surname. There HAD to be SOME reason why they took Tomkyns as surname in mid 1200's. Also supported by the legend brought back from Surrey shortly after our Civil War by the late Judge and Major John Robertson Tompkins of Mobile Alabama. The Surrey Tompkins families had it that we descend from Thom the Saxon who fought at Hastings. This Walter de Cantilupe as of Catholic records, called Warine by others and called Guarin de Metz by others, most certainly be the same person. No doubt he was called "e Metz" because owned land in Metz tho living in England. Men were then almost always known by place name of land they owned. For many years our name Toen, son of Thom and father of Toenchen (the younger, as 'chen' became English suffix "kin") was not used by any record we had seen. But lately in Library of Congress at Washington we found an item from Domesday book naming one Toeni homo Tham. This bears evidence as to truth of legend of Thom who fought at Hastings. We only reasoned there was a Then because we found a Toenchen, who no doubt was son of a Toen. The Domesday record proves there was a Toen and he was "home ham." So, inasmuch as the grandsons of Walter de Cantilupe took Tomkyns as surname, we believe that Toenchen was the person after whom the surname was adopted. We believe we descend from Thom the Saxon and from this Walter de Cantilupe, but the problem is JUST HOW were Toenchen and the others related. We do not know. It is a case where we have to choose whether to credit the legend of Thom, or the records we found as to ancestry of Walter de Cantilupe. The record seem stronger evidence but we cannot escape the fact that his grandsons used Tomkyns as a surname. It is possible that the Sussex Tompkins descended from Thom the Saxon per their legend and that we descend from the same stem. There were literally hundreds of persons in Madron Parish (Cornwall) in the 1300's and 1400's with some form of Tomkyns surnames who we have never been able to identify. But as there are "records" of the descendants of Walter de Cantilupe, we tentatively accept this as our line.
It is very probable that there were sons of Toenchen which branch had spread out from the branch of Walter de Cantilupe, and that they were neighbors of the Walter de Cantilupe line, and that this branch from Toenchen had adopted the Tomkyns as surname according to English new law of that time. And it would be reasonable to believe that the de Cantilupe line, being related to these others who took Tomkyns as a surname, should also select Tomkyns as THEIR surname. Also the sons of Toenchen for instance one who might have been named John, as was the custom, his sons could call themselves Fitz John; a man named Hugh could have sons known as Fitz Hugh, and so on. The answer lies in the records of Madron Parish. It would be quite a job to unravel the great mass of data found there. But who knows? Maybe our papers might some day point a way to the solution of the problem. We hope so. But to continue re

73. Walter de Cantilupe (so called by Catholic records) who was same as Guarin de Metz, same as Warine, etc. m. Melette de Dynan. This man had several castles, was a powerful man and a champion knight. We have a whole book about him and his descendants, copied by hand from a book in Library of Congress. Catholic records under item St Thomas of Hereford (q.v.) give much genealogical data. Also we saw a book about St Thomas of Hereford in the Boston Public Library, which agrees with the Catholic records and with our own records.

157. Toenchchen ba. 1095. Contemporary with Turton's record of ancestors of St Thomas of Hereford. We long had believed that we descend from Thom the Saxon by way of his son Toen and Toen's son, Toenchchen as explained previously. But later information largely from Turton's "Plantagenets", we are forced to abandon this premise. Perhaps the Sassen Tompkins family who gave the Thom legend to the late Judge John Robertson Tompkins of Mobile Alabama, WERE descended from Thom.
There are a very great number of records of Tomkyns in various forms, in Madron Parish who we after years of research, were unable to identify. We believe that in the mid 1200's when surnames became compulsory by English law, the descendants of Toenchchen took Toenchchen as a surname as was a general custom. There were many whose surname appear as Toenchchens, and Tonkins, and various other forms, in this Madron parish records.
The descendants of Walter de Cantelupe who we know in some instances, took Tomkyns as a surname, did so because descendants of Toenchchen, had already taken Tomkyns as a surname, and that they were related as lived in same part of England at that time. As it stands now, we are not sure who were the sons of Toenchchen, but who ever they were, their families took some form of Tomkyns as a surname.

Please note that first part of this tabulation has numbers from Charlemagne #1 to Toenchchen #157 inclusive.
This occurs because after we had tabulated over 18 thousand name with number from 1 onwards, we found a large number of new names that should be in this early dated items.

In trace back you will find on page 15, old number 95 Thomas Tomkyns of Hereford. Please note the ink item "NN 144." This means the ancestor of this Temp Thomas formerly number 95, will be found previously as NN (new number) 144. Find him as # 144 on page 14.

Same procedure for Ralph old number 96 on page 15, who has a notation " NN 145." Therefore, find him again on page 14 and NN (new number 145) and in both cases, trace BACK per the new numbers which appear on pages 1 to 14b, inclusive. Otherwise we would have to change all subsequent number up to over 18,000. Sorry, it's a little round-about but no too difficult to identify those listed.

209. Samuel Tomkins of Derry and Note- Not sure of any descendants. We regard tentatively this may be father of one Samuel Tomkins born about 1680 who Judge John Robertson Tomkins of Mobile thought was progenitor of our branch. This Samuel was said to have come to Virginia about 1710 and lived in Isle of Wright County Virginia and could have been father of a number of persons of the Carolinas of that era who we cannot connect with our other old American branches. This is quite circumstantial and may or may not be correct. had of Virginia ...

1025 Thomas Tompkins b. Portsmouth Va d. Danford Fla 1891 youngest child of Edward and Harriet Burwell who had 12 children this Thomas was in Confederate army as did not die in war must have been in surrendered troops and in Federal war prison met a man named Levi Carter from Canada. After war and when free again pby lived Alabama health impaired. Went Canada to visit his friend Levi Carter. Met Carter’s sister Adelaide and married her lived pby in or near Fort Colborne Ontario. We believe had small farm which may have been to Adelaide Carter by her father. There they had two children, Lura Adelaide b 1875 and Charles Levi b 1878 and an adopted son Willie. We believe Willie was older than either of the other two and was 1860. Willie would be a strong boy 15 years old when first child Lora Adeline was in 1875. Big enough to help do farm work as Thomas was in broken health. About 1885 Adelaide Carter died leaving Lura Adelaide age 10 and Charles Levi age 7. These were raised by Levi Carter family but both went to ND “in their early twenties” about 1890 when Lora Adeline was 25 and Charles Levi was 22. Their father Thomas took his adopted son Willie and “went South” to Sanford Florida where two of his sisters lived but we do not know which sisters it was. He had to go to milder climate account health. He went to Florida some time between about 1885 and 1891 for he died in Florida in 1891 age 58 only.

No doubt Thomas went to Canada after the war also because the South under the heels of the carpet-baggers, negroes could vote and whites could not, cities under negro soldiers, negro governors, mayors, chief of police, Read Life of Thadeus Stevens and Lyle Saxon’s books about New Orleans. Negroes RULED backed by the US government. Black soldiers knocked white women off the sidewalk if they did not step aside to let the negro pass. Then the Ku Klux came to be. I suspect some of my folks helped organize it at Atlanta. I have seen them many times during the negro uprising in 1885, Ku Klux hung the white agitators to a bridge.

       The GWT MSS says they lived Grass Valley Calif "now" which is indefinite date but probably about 1910. The MSS says "It is said that one Dr Ivancovitch took a very old family Bible from Grass Valley and it was never returned." If some future researcher can find this it will be a big help in Tompkins genealogy.
